QUESTION 1

Read the article below and answer the questions that follow.

CRIME AND CORRUPTION

South Africa faces issues with entrenched corruption and organised crime, both having a corrosive effect on governance and economic growth. Despite progress under Nelson Mandela, state capture and corruption under the Zuma administration have precipitated an explosion in organised crime. Moreover, South Africa has become home to some of the most diversified crime syndicates in the world. These syndicates have connections to transnational criminal networks, traffic in people, guns, drugs and minerals. They also traffic copper and oil stolen – often with complicity – from South African SOEs (state-owned enterprises). These groups extort businesses, leading to the cancellation of contracts, as well as employment and economic losses. The current Ramaphosa administration has taken several genuine, however limited, steps in tackling corruption and crime.

QUESTION 5

- 5.1 Read the extract below and answer the questions that follow.

Today there are many people who hold a secular world view. They do not hold a particular religious belief or belong to a religious community. This does not mean that the people who hold a secular world view are not religious or spiritual.

[Source: Focus on Religious Studies, Grade 12]

- 5.1.1 Compare the teachings of any ONE secular world view with the teachings of any ONE religion you have studied. (16)
- 5.1.2 Critically evaluate the impact of secularism on the moral values of society. (14)

- 5.2 Read the extract below and answer the questions that follow.

Interfaith cooperation can be, should be, has been and, in some instances, still is a positive thing. The problems and concerns that arise cannot be dealt with by any one national or religious group. Religious organisations are now working together in South Africa and in the whole of Africa. These organisations have been established to try and develop cordial relationships between religions in Africa – one of them is Interfaith Action for Peace in Africa (IFAPA).

[Adapted from Shuters Top Class Religion Studies, Grade 12]

- 5.2.1 State FIVE achievements of IFAPA. (10)
- 5.2.2 When humanitarian crises erupt, religious adherents set aside their differences and find one another in a common response. Briefly discuss THREE examples of interreligious cooperation in South Africa. (10)
